

SyberWorks e-Learning Podcasts: Episode #22: Interview with Guy Wallace about His “T&D Systems View,” e-Book

Waltham, Massachusetts – July 30, 2008

SyberWorks, Inc., a global leader in Learning Management System technology, today announces the next episode in their e-Learning Podcast Series: “Guy Wallace Talks about His e-Book, T&D Systems View.”

Dave Boggs, CEO of SyberWorks, states:

“Today’s podcast is an interview with Guy Wallace, Certified Performance Technologist and the President of EPPIC, Inc. Guy has written an e-Book, ‘T&D Systems View,’ which presents a structured method for managing the learning/training function from a systems and process perspective.”

Boggs continues, “Guy’s approach to development focuses on organizational performance outputs and deliverables, which reduces development costs because training departments create only the products that they need. The e-Book is an analytic design tool that can measure and simplify an organization’s training curriculum. ‘T&D Systems View’ is free and can be downloaded from Guy Wallace’s web site.” Mary Kay Lofurno, Director of Marketing at SyberWorks, narrates the series.
