

SyberWorks LMS e-Learning Implementation Podcast #9: *Interview with Ben Schmitz, Technical Trainer for St. Jude Medical, Inc.

Waltham, Massachusetts – June 27, 2007

SyberWorks, a leader in custom e-Learning Solutions and the Learning Management System industry, today announces the next episode in their LMS e-Learning Implementation Podcast Series: “Interview with Ben Schmitz, Technical Trainer for St. Jude Medical, Inc.”

Dave Boggs, CEO of SyberWorks, states:

“In this edition of the SyberWorks LMS e-Learning Implementation Podcast Series, Ben Schmitz discusses their use of the SyberWorks Learning Management System to 21 CFR compliant training to plant assembly personnel and employees that support the production process. This podcast takes a fascinating look at competency management as it is applied within the context of the highly regulated medical manufacturing industry.”

Boggs continues, “Ben does a good job at illustrating how certain competencies map to various job activities and skills. He also discusses the process of software validation he employed for their e-Learning implementation.”
