SyberWorks LMS e-Learning Implementation Podcast 17: Interview with Claudia Innes of Fairchild Semiconductor, Inc.

Waltham, Massachusetts – June 10, 2008

SyberWorks, Inc., a leader in custom e-Learning Solutions and the Learning Management System (LMS) industry, today announces the next episode in their LMS e-Learning Implementation Podcast Series: "Interview with Claudia Innes of Fairchild Semiconductor, Inc."

Dave Boggs, CEO of SyberWorks, states:

> "This month's episode looks at Fairchild Semiconductor's use of the SyberWorks Hosted e-Learning Solution to create a marketing-information portal to provide marketing and performance support for their sales staff, sales engineers, partners, and distributors in the power-supply segment."

Boggs continues, "The discussion describes how a large, global manufacturer has leveraged the SyberWorks Hosted e-Learning as a marketing-information portal, to solve real-world business challenges like the distribution of multi-lingual marketing collateral, worldwide distributor certification programs, and sales training in the highly cyclical semiconductor industry."
